

Innovation in Assessment: 4th Annual ANNY Conference

By Don Sutherland

Starting this morning and running through April 20, the Assessment Network of New York (ANNY) will be holding its 4th annual conference, which will be co-hosted by the University at Buffalo.

Workshop topics include:

- Classroom Assessment Techniques: Time Tested Tools to Energize and Improve Teaching and Learning
- Middle States Self-Study Visits: Perspectives from the Inside and Outside
- Pioneering the New Middle States Standards: Three Institutions Share Their Experiences
- Assessment in 3D: Is Assessment Really Working for Me?
- Broadening the Value of Assessment: Measuring Learning That Happens Beyond the Classroom and Graduation

The above list is not all-inclusive.

Some highlights from the conference will be shared in a future blog entry.