

A New Year's Wish

By Don Sutherland

With Lehman College currently going through its re-accreditation process, the situation is akin to an old year's coming to an end and a new year's approaching. It is a time to look back on the things the College did and the lives it transformed. It is an opportunity to look ahead to the future, a future that the College can shape to some extent through its planning, resource allocation, and assessment activities.

While that path continues to be charted, I wish all a rewarding, prosperous, and joyful remainder of 2018 and an even better 2019.
